

THE
Dublin Directory,
For the Year 1760.

CONTAINING,

An Alphabetical LIST of the Names, Occupations, and Places of Abode, of the MERCHANTS, and other eminent TRADERS, of the City of DUBLIN.

To which are now first added,

LISTS of the PHYSICIANS, SURGEONS, BARRISTERS, ATTORNIES, ADVOCATES and PROCTORS; the MINISTERS and CURATES of the several Parishes; and the new COMMON-COUNCIL of DUBLIN, with their respective Places of Abode.

LIKEWISE,

A LIST of all the Streets, Lanes, Alleys, Quays, Courts, &c. in the City and Suburbs of DUBLIN, digested into Alphabetical Order: With their Situations with respect to each other.

ALSO,

A NEW PLAN of DUBLIN, engraven on Purpose for this Work, and so contrived, that, by Means of proper References from the List of Streets, &c. the Situation of any Place may be instantly found. Peculiarly useful to Strangers and Foreigners.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THE Editor of this New DIRECTORY begs Leave to acquaint the Public, with what has been done, to give it as much Perfection, as the Nature of it will admit.

First, The necessary Additions to, and various Alterations in, the List of Merchants and Traders, since the last Publication in 1753, have been made; and are so numerous, that this Part may be considered as an entire New Work, enlarged by near one Half, and attended with much Difficulty and Labour: Yet, being subject to daily Alterations, he fears, notwithstanding his utmost Industry to avoid it, that some few, not inconsiderable Traders, have been overlooked; while others, who ought to be expunged, are still retained. These Omissions, if any, may be imputed to their own Neglect, in not returning him their Names, after repeated Advertisements for that Purpose. However, to remedy all Mistakes of this Nature [unavoidable for want of due Information] he proposes, if necessary, to print a Supplemental List of them, and furnish his Subscribers with it gratis; hoping, that Gentlemen sending in their Names, will so far consider his extraordinary Trouble and Expence, as to become Purchasers of one Copy at least.

Secondly, To remove the Difficulty of finding out obscure Places, an Alphabetical List of all the Streets, &c. with References to the Plan, has been added. The Compiling of this List, and adjusting the References, it is evident, must have been the Work of no small Labour.

Thirdly, A new Plan of Dublin is annexed. This, and the List of Streets, will mutually explain and illustrate each other.

Lastly,

ADVERTISEMENT.

Lastly, Besides these Improvements [which were all that were promised by the Proposals] the Editor has subjoined several other Lists; which, he apprehends, will be found Useful on many interesting Occasions; and may be capable of farther Improvement and Extension, as Time, Circumstances and Encouragement invite.

- ✚ A Book, to Register all Omissions and Alterations that are communicated to the Publisher, is opened at his Shop: Where may be had, the new Plan of Dublin, pasted on Linen, and folded for the Pocket. Price a British Shilling.

An ALPHABETICAL LIST of all the STREETS, LANES, ALLEYS, QUAYS, SQUARES, COURTS, YARDS, &c. in the City and Suburbs of DUBLIN with their Situations with respect to each other; and References for finding them in the Plan.

Note, The Letters at the End of each Street, refer to the Margin of the Plan and are intended to shew the Situation of any Place upon Inspection. Example. To find Smithfield. In the List of Streets, Smithfield is situated near King-street, Oxmantown, and the Letters of Reference are E. c. the turning to the Plan, and passing the Eye downwards under the great Letter E, and sideways opposite the small Letter c, I find the Situation of the Place wanted. Where the Place is too inconsiderable to be particularly mentioned without over-crowding the Plan, the Letters of Reference, in the Case, are to the next considerable Street, and the Situation, by that Means may be nearly found. Any Omissions or Mistakes in this List, if communicated to the Publisher, will be thankfully received, and, in due Time supplied and corrected.
